

Hello!
user1

hello
user2

Would you like to start
user2

I think that Republicans are far more hypocritical
user1

They say that they want freedom and then restrict abortion rights
user1

They complain about the education system but don't want to fund it
user1

What do you think?
user1

I agree with you and I'm struggling to think of an area Democrats are hypocritical in
user2

Some democrats are hypocritical like Joe Manchin
user1

He's more of a liar than a hypocrite
user2

I suppose he's hypocritical in that he complained that the Senate doesn't do anything, but he refuses to do anything himself even when he's the only one needed to get things done
user2

right? I think Biden has been pretty good about keeping his promises. Better than Obama. Obama made several promises that he didn't carry out.
user1

But as a whole the Democrats don't seem hypocritical to me, just ineffective
user2

The Republicans were also hypocritical when it comes to Supreme Court nominations
user1

Yes
user2

chastising Democrats and then doing exactly what they said Democrats should not do
user1

Their reason for not seating a Justice during Obama's last term was immediately tossed aside to get an unqualified Barrett on the court
user2

yep!
user1

I think their biggest hypocrisy is their moral outrage
user2

at least Obama's choice is effective in the Justice Department
user1

If there's a school shooting like, I don't know, the one we just had
user2

They act outraged if anyone brings up guns
user2

Don't disrespect the memory of the children by mentioning guns
user2

we've had several mass shootings over the last year and Republicans act outraged but seem like they want to hand a gun to every American
user1

I think all politicians are hypocritical when it comes to campaign donations and stock market investments.
user1

And they don't want to talk politics but that's all their abortion stance is user2

Yes
user2

Republicans are super hypocritical in talking about how social security is lacking but then they raid "surpluses" from it...
user1

At least they've stopped trying to repeal healthcare, for now
user2

they want freedom to make their own decisions about their life and mask wearing but then they won't give me freedom on whether I want to have a child or not
user1

Oh the coronavirus debacle. I wasn't even thinking about that
user2

I think the majority of the Republican platform is hypocritical
user1

they just want whatever puts money in their pockets
user1

Yes
